THE IMA TEAM...

Working together to make our Army installations a better place to live, work and train.

Seven Regions Around the World!

★ Headquarters in Arlington, Virginia

Established in October 2002, IMA is an integral component of senior leadership's vision to transform the Army into a more agile and responsive force. IMA oversees management responsibilities and operations of 181 Army installations worldwide, over 75,000 military and civilian personnel and a budget exceeding $8 billion. Organized with seven regions, IMA's power projection and power support capabilities are proving to be key enablers in assuring rapid response, reach-back capability and "home team" support as the Army executes combat and security missions globally. Garrison commanders are continually ensuring that mobilization plans are current, executable, rehearsed, coordinated and support mission requirements.

IMA IS HERE

IMA's garrisons successfully supported the mobilization and deployment of U.S. forces during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

IMA is the "stay home" team that cares for Army installations and allows war fighting commanders to focus on the front.

IMA garrisons deliver quality support and well-being to the Army Family throughout duration of deployments.

IMA has the capability to shift base support assets to enable power projection and power support worldwide.

IMA performs all aspects of installation support. Army families can rely on quality services to include day care, community services, schools and housing.

IMA provides a safe and secure environment to work, live and play.

Installation Management focuses on streamlining, realigning and standardizing delivery of services to raise quality and performance at all installations.

As an Army agent of change, IMA is implementing the most effective and efficient government, industry and community services to provide the best support for soldiers, families and civilians.
